ABOUT US

STEM Like a Girl is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization currently serving Oregon, Washington, and New Jersey. Our mission is to excite and empower girls with knowledge and confidence in STEM to become future problem solvers and leaders. We are devoted to inspiring elementary school girls to develop interest and confidence in STEM through hands-on activities, parent engagement, and positive female role models.  When given the right tools early on, we believe all girls have the power to develop their own STEM identity.

OUR WORKSHOPS

Our workshops are designed to provide an introduction to STEM activities for 3rd-5th grade girls and female-identifying youth. Many other STEM-based programs are costly, require a significant time commitment, or are targeted towards families already interested in science and engineering. We aim to make STEM activities available to ALL GIRLS, in particular those who don't have access to other programs. Our workshops are a great introduction to STEM for caregivers that might not otherwise consider science and engineering programs for their girls. We hope to ignite a spark in both girls and their adults to continue STEM activities at home and beyond.

At a workshop, girls have the opportunity to participate in hands-on, experiential STEM activities while learning about the design process, During these activities, we introduce the concept of "learning from failure" and how to reframe failure into a positive thing. We also host a mentor panel where female STEM professionals share their backgrounds and experiences as well as answer questions from participants. Throughout the workshop, we promote family learning by encouraging parents to work with their daughters to solve the challenges. This helps build confidence and excitement in both the girls AND their adults around STEM activities.

TESTIMONIALS

"Thank you so much for such an awesome day. You have taken so much time to rally professional women in the STEM field and bring them to the girls here in Portland. I was so moved by this experience and can't wait to do it again with my daughter. She loved it! I was impressed with the care these folks took to connect with my daughter, gently questioning her thoughts for furthering the design process. I could see the wheels spinning. Much appreciation."
-Shannon, Mom of Zella, 3rd grade

"I really enjoyed STEM Like a Girl because I got to spend time with my mom and I thought that the bath bomb making was very fun!"
- Grace, 5th grade

"Last year, in second grade, my sweet, smart girl started coming home saying she wasn't any good in math. That the boys in her class were so much better. Organizations like STEM Like a Girl matter, so much more than we can imagine "
- Gretchen, Mom of Marabel, 3rd grade
